

Good news confirmed at SMG in Brazil

- First revenues registered for the four wind farms
- Installed capacity multiplied by 2.2 in Brazil

Voltalia (Euronext Paris), producer of electricity from renewable energy sources, received the authorization from ANEEL, the Brazilian regulator, to fully benefit from the compensation scheme for the four SMG wind farms (São Miguel do Gostoso - 27 MW capacity each).

Voltalia therefore collected its first revenues for one site starting June 26, 2015 and for the three others starting June 30, 2015.

As a reminder, whereas Voltalia had completed the construction works for the four wind farms in June, production could not start due to a delay in the construction of the connection line by the Brazilian government. Voltalia then engaged in a process in order to benefit from the compensation scheme contained in the terms and conditions of the tender it had successfully won in 2011. A positive outcome was achieved for a first site in July and for the three others in August.

Installed capacity multiplied by 2.2 in Brazil

Thanks to the four new SMG wind farms, Voltalia more than doubles its installed capacity in Brazil, from 90 MW to 198 MW. The expected commissioning of most of the 93 MW of the Vamcruz facility by the end of this year will also further strengthen Voltalia's installed capacity in the region.

Next on the agenda: H1 2015 results to be released on September 10, 2015 (post trading).
