Governors from the 9 states of Brazil's Northeast Region received at Voltalia's head office in Paris

Voltalia (Euronext Paris ISIN code: FR0011995588), international player in renewable energies, received the visit of the Consortium of Governors of the Northeastern States of Brazil, who were accompanied by elected officials and senior officials of the federal State of Brazil.

Voltalia is a leader in renewable energies in Brazil's Northeast Region, a region benefiting from particularly favorable wind and solar regimes. Most of the plants developed by Voltalia in Brazil are located in this region, with 997 MW currently in operation or under construction¹, plus 118 MW² secured since January 2019, and which construction will mostly start in 2020. Present in Brazil since 2007, Voltalia is a local, reliable and fast-growing economic partner, with a 3.7 gigawatt pipeline of future projects (wind, solar and hydro).

The Governors of the Northeastern States and Voltalia discussed several important topics, related to the short and long-term development of renewables in the region, including regulatory aspects, public bank financing, development of the power grid, safety and logistics.
